Line mechanics training program and planned facility are focus of April 18 public meeting

Alderman Russell W. Stamper, II invites residents to a Metcalfe Park community pop-up meeting on Tuesday, April 18 to discuss the Milwaukee Area Technical College (MATC) Electrical Power Distribution/ Line Mechanics training program (and related MATC program opportunities) and the linesman training facility that is proposed for construction at the western side of the N. 30th and W. North Ave. footprint.

The line worker training program covers the basics on electrical power distribution, line mechanics rescue and safety, and general workplace communication. “The training program can quickly qualify participants for jobs that start at $63,000 a year and with the potential to go higher and higher,” Alderman Stamper said.

“I strongly encourage anyone interested in this exciting and good-paying field and the proposed facility to attend our meeting on April 18th,” the Alderman said.

The meeting will be hosted by Alderman Stamper and will include representatives from community partners, including Metcalfe Park Community Bridges, the Redevelopment Authority of the City of Milwaukee (RACM), MATC and others.
